STATE BOARD CHARGED WITH MISMANAGEMENT OF BUCKEYE LAKE

Millions of Gallons of Water Said to be Wasted and No Means Furnished
to Replenish the Supply

DOES NOT KEEP FEEDER IN GOOD CONDITION

Flume Which Could be Repaired Easily at Little Cost Allows Great Waste of Water to Run
Into Creek---But Little Consideration
Shown for Hundreds of Property Owners at Beautiful
Lake Resort

Columbus, O., July 31.—Mismanagement, incompetency or worse, by the state board of public works, is every year robbing Ohio of the full benefit of that people's playground—Buckeye Lake.

Waste of millions and millions of gallons of water—without providing any way for replenishing the supply, every summer takes from the people of moderate means, not wealthy enough to go to the seashore, their only opportunity of enjoying their summer vacations in swimming and boating.

The interests of a few corporations have been, and are now, placed above the interests of one hundred thousand people who visit Buckeye Lake during the summer months. The state board of public works deems it of more importance that certain interests shall be supplied with cheap water for their engines and boilers than that the lake, which belongs to the people, shall be kept a beautiful stretch of water.

Water users, not satisfied with the amount of water for which they pay the state, take any amount they happen to need instead of taking the amount for which they contract.

To supply them the state board of public works maintains a minimal hole in the ground nine miles long, full of water snakes, turtles, weeds, filth and decaying vegetation, running water through leaks, thence from which it runs into creeks and is lost.

To supply corporations which pay $1000 in water licenses, the board robs people who pay $8000 in licenses for leases on land and boat permits—licenses which represent an investment of thousands and thousands of dollars.

For supplying water to these few corporations the state board of public works gets enough money to pay for eight months the laborers it has employed to work along this nine miles of canal. It does not collect enough to pay them and the salary of Samuel Brown, the foreman in charge.

The state board of public works, by the grossest of incompetence, has permitted water to be carried out one end of Buckeye Lake at the rate of four and a half inches a month—two feet in a season—regardless of the protests of people interested in the lake, while it has willfully neglected to provide any means of getting more water back into the lake.

General Sherwood arraigned pension bill enemies in a scathing speech. Washington, July 31.—Severely arraigning John McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, the alleged organ of the Union Veterans, as an enemy to all pension legislation, and characterizing him as a parasite feeding on the credulity of soldiers, General Isaac R. Sherwood, of Toledo, Saturday delivered a stirring speech in the House on the subject of pensions. Incidentally, and in passing General Sherwood paid his respects to former Representative Keifer, of Ohio, and to his colleague Representative Anderson, of Postoria, on account of the attitude which they have assumed toward the subject. He explained that his bill, which has been approved by the Democrats of the house, proposes to award pensions upon merit and service rather than upon age. No age pension bill, he declared, could be founded on moral, economic or patriotic grounds. It was legislation. He showed the advantage which a needy day soldier, who had never

during the past four years had not even given him a vote on the measure and the petitions had become lost.

"These petitions have disappeared," exclaimed General Sherwood. "They cannot be found. Is it possible that the timid statesmen of the country, who refused me a vote on my dollar a day pension bill because they thought it would bankrupt the treasury, are the same statesmen who are now clamoring for an impossible pension bill that it is conceded will take over $25,000,000 more out of the treasury than my dollar a day pension bill for veterans?"

General Sherwood told how General Hall, State Commander of Ohio, had used his efforts to have the dollar a day bill turned down, and for his action had been rebuked by his own local post at Lima.

"General Hall," continued General Sherwood, "did not win his stars as a Brigadier General in the war, but by gallant conduct in the g. o. p. 40 years afterward."

John McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, was described as "howling like a yellow dog with the rabies in favor of an impossible pension bill; a bill which every one knows would not be considered by the Senate; a bill carrying from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 annually more than the Sulloway bill even; a bill to pension a soldier who served only a short time at a certain amount, while the four year veteran who went into the war at the age of 16 would get only half as much."

General Sherwood quoted Secretary MacVeagh as referring to the pension roll as no longer as a roll of honor. No such damaging charge has ever been made by a Cabinet officer.

"Suppose a Democrat had said that," exclaimed General Sherwood. "Would the National Tribune have kept silent? McElroy conducts his paper first in the interests of the Republican party, and secondly in the interests of the soldier. That paper has criticized and assailed me because I am a democrat and patriotic for my old comrades in distress."

"The best informed soldiers in and out of the Grand Army do not believe the editor of the National Tribune wants satisfactory legislation. The circulation of his newspaper depends upon having pension legislation pending. He desires to further exploit himself as a parasite upon the credulous old soldiers."

General Sherwood listed his colleague, Representative Anderson, born 12 years after the fall of Fort Sumter, with forming an alliance with McElroy to attack the Chairman of the Invalid Pensions Committee, discredit him and embarrass the Democratic party, which had twice elected him (Anderson) to Congress.

In not selecting Mr. Anderson as the Chairman of the committee, which position he coveted, General Sherwood said the Ways and Means committee evidently thought that it might be better for him to "tarry awhile at Jericho."

One of General Sherwood's most active and forceful co-workers is Congressman Ashbrook, of Ohio. General Sherwood made an eloquent appeal to the house to make the soldiers pension roll a roll of honor and to reward merit and service, making that the basis of gratuities to the veterans rather than age.

General Sherwood filed a protest against the pensioning of "spring pullets" who as he expressed it, were "girls" who marry old soldiers on their last legs. At the same time he expressed the belief that the present house could pass a pension bill that would pension the widows of soldiers without working a fraud on the government by pensioning those who married just to get a pension.

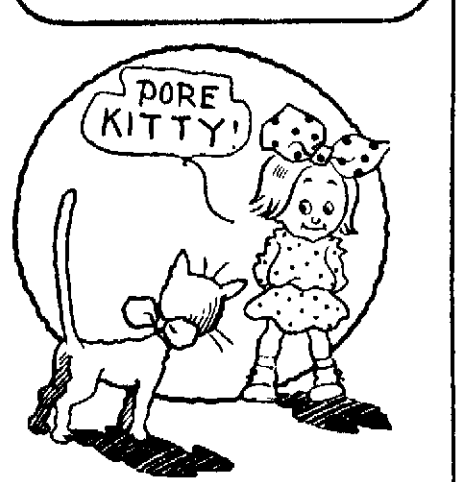

PASSENGERS HAD STRENUOUS TIME

Chicago, July 31.—Three hundred passengers who left Cincinnati last night over the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, arrived in Chicago today after a wild night of wrecks, fires and riots.

At Newkirk, O., the train was held up by a freight wreck and the passengers were forced to walk two miles around the wreck to meet a relief train. Some of the Erie passengers set fire to tank cars which had been wrecked and later attacked the crews of the relief train. Fences were torn down and burned and an immense wheat field just cut was fired by the passengers. The relief train arrived here shortly before noon.

The only people who have more friends than they need are the people who don't need them.

Members of Congress
Working 'o Probe
The "Money Trust"

Washington, July 31.—The so-called "money trust," headed by Wall street financiers and described as the most gigantic combination of capital in the world, is to be investigated by congress. After a hearing the rules committee of the house of representatives decided to report favorably the resolution of Representative

ROBERT L. HENRY

Charles Lindbergh, Republican, of Minnesota, providing for a most thoroughgoing examination into the affairs of the alleged money monopolies. A combination of banks, railroads, insurance and industrial companies through a "community of interest" arrangement, has been charged to exist for the purpose of controlling the circulation of money in large business operations. John Pierpont Morgan is said to be the guiding factor in the combination. Chairman Henry of Texas, of the house committee on rules has long favored Mr. Lindbergh's resolution, and he and Congressman Hardwick, also a member of the committee on rules, were instrumental in having the measure reported for consideration by the house.

MOTHER WILL STAND BY SON

New York, July 31.—Mother love proved supreme in the case of Mrs. Agnes G. del. mother of the confessed slayer of William H. Jackson, the aged millionaire broker in the fashionable Hotel last Thursday night. Despite the fact that she spent her life's savings in helping him from the consequences of his escapades she came here from her home in Connecticut today to stand by him during his trial on a charge of first degree murder for which there is but penalty, death.

The mother borrowed money from a relative to engage former Assistant District Attorney to defend her 17-year-old boy. Geldel was taken from his cell today to the court dressed in the sandy clothes which he purchased with the proceeds of his brutal crime. No plea was entered for him and the case was continued until tomorrow.

Lawyers have no hope of saving him from the electric chair.

ISSUE SUBPOENAS IN CONTEMPT CASE

Columbus, July 31.—Subpoenas were issued today for the fifteen members of the April grand jury to appear as witnesses in the contempt proceedings brought against the Cleveland Leader and Col. Ruth, their Columbus correspondent, which will come before Judge Kirkland Wednesday. Ruth is charged with having turned in for publication grand jury indictments against legislators which were supposed to have been kept secret until service on the indicted men had been made.

WOULD PENSION THOSE OVER 50

Washington, July 31.—Government pensions for the aged were provided in a bill introduced in the house today by Victor L. Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist. The measure proposes to grant to every person who brings proof that he or she is more than 50 years old has been a citizen of the United States for more than 16 years and if a husband has not without just cause failed in maintenance of his wife, a weekly pension from $1 to $4, depending on their income. Berger estimated that the measure would cost the government $317,000,000 annually.

THAT $550 OF PERSUASION
MONEY, WHICH WAS THE PRICE
OF ATHERTON'S RESIGNATION

A Number of Contributors to the Fund
Were Not in as Good Financial Circumstances as the Man Who Took the Money

The Columbus Dispatch contains a statement from Atherton which is a lame attempt to deny the facts pertaining to the transaction in which he took $550 of persuasion money from Newark Democrats as the price of his resignation as Mayor after he had been suspended by the Governor for his refusal to interfere and prevent the lynching crime of July 8, 1910. For several weeks Atherton has been peddling the story that HE WAS FORCED TO RESIGN by leaders of his party.

But now being forced to face the exposure of having accepted a money consideration for his resignation, which money was contributed by Democrats whose motive was to protect him from the humiliation of being removed by the Governor, which was inevitable, Atherton shows his ingratitude to those men who were real friends, by a miserable attempt to deny the facts.

When Governor Harmon suspended Atherton from the Mayor's office he did it wholly on account of the latter's conduct on the night of the lynching and on the evidence of Atherton's own statement. Previous conditions and conduct of the Mayor had nothing whatever to do with the Governor's action. The Mayor surrendered every vestige of the office and was legally down and out in every regard. It was then that Democratic friends came to his rescue to save him from the humiliation and further disgrace of removal by the Governor on the day set for the hearing. It was learned from every Democratic lawyer in the city, as well as some of state reputation at Columbus that Atherton had no defence as to his conduct on the night of the lynching and that his removal could not be averted. Lawyers explained that if Atherton appeared to the courts, his term of office would expire before a final decision in the supreme court could be reached. These were the conditions that confronted Atherton when local Democrats made their efforts to prevail upon him to resign. For many hours they labored with him diligently, but all without avail until a money inducement was offered. It was then that the men present at the meeting quickly saw the effect of this kind of a proposition on the Atherton mind. An agreement was reached in a shorter time than it takes to describe it. The sum of $550 was raised by Democratic contributors, Atherton took the persuasion money and signed his resignation. He was that much ahead in dollars. The transaction saved the Governor the necessity of returning from his summer home in Michigan to hear the case on the day that had been set for the purpose, as well as it saved Atherton's humiliation.

But here is the most significant fact for the public to know regarding Atherton's conduct in taking this money as a consideration to resign. A number of the contributors who came across with the money in sums of $25 and $50, were poor men, WHO WERE NOT IN AS GOOD FINANCIAL CIRCUMSTANCES as Atherton was at that time.

There are more facts to Atherton's discredit in this matter and also as to his conduct on the night of the lynching that the public will know later.

SENATOR OWEN FAVORS
RECALL OF JUDICIARY

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Asserting that the federal court has invaded the constitution, the rights of state and the legislative functions of congress and the states and has become an instrument through which the special interests have been enabled to block the progressive legislation of recent years, Senator Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, today vowed to the senate his emphatic approval of the recall of the judiciary.

"The moment the recall went into effect," he said, "the courts would promptly discontinue unauthorized, unconstitutional and grossly improper conduct or discrediting an act of congress as unconstitutional. The courts would not attend acts of congress by inserting words in important statutes which congress had refused to insert as the supreme court did in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases unconstitutional. The longer deal with undue severity in contempt cases and government by injunction would cease."

REORGANIZATION OF STANDARD OIL CO.

New York, July 31.—Rockefeller's ownership of the Standard Oil company and the domination of its affairs will continue as formerly under the reorganization as announced from the home offices of the company here today. Instead of being one big company as at present there will be 33 separate concerns and the holders of one share of stock in the Standard on Aug. 31 next, will when the books of the company are opened about Dec. 31, hold a proportionate ownership in each of the 33 different concerns. The distribution presents a problem in arithmetic which bids fair to keep expert accountants busy.

TRAGIC PROPOSITION

Of Young Man Who Is Dying of Tuberculosis and Would Provide for His Family.

Richmond, Va., July 31.—An offer to save the life of Henry Clay Beattie Jr., accused of murdering his wife because he loved Beulah Binford, who comes from an entire stranger, who offers him his own life—"useless, and nearly gone," he calls it—in exchange.

A more startling, more tragic proposition than the one this unnamed stranger has made has never, perhaps, been recorded outside of fiction.

The man who wants to be the victim of the executioner is not a madman, not a crank, not even a loving friend of the youth who is in jail here awaiting trial for one of the most amazing crimes the country ever knew. So far as he can recall, he has never even spoken a word to Henry Clay Beattie Jr.

Yet his motive is tinged with a high nobility, an almost unbelievable spirit of self sacrifice.

The story is this: When young Beattie raced up in his automobile to the home of his wife's uncle with his young wife beside him, shot dead, and his arm around her, stained with her blood, he said that a highwayman had held him up and in firing at him, had shot his wife.

"A tall man," he gasped. "Tall—6 feet, pale, with a stubby beard. He killed her—he got away—look for him."

At first the story was believed. Search was made for the tall man. But no tracks were found, no trace of him could be had. Then Beattie's own gun was discovered; he was arrested and his story pronounced a fiction.

So much for explanation. Now for the stranger's offer:

A man two days ago sought a person who is extremely interested in the welfare of the accused slayer. He hesitated for a time about declaring his mission. Then he asked timidly for a description of the highwayman who, young Beattie declared, had shot his wife. It was given to him.

The stranger shook off his timidity. With strange vehemence he exclaimed:

"Look at me! Look at me closely! I am tall. I am pale. I have a stubby beard. I am exactly like the man he described."

The friend of Beattie thought his visitor might be mentally unbalanced. There are persons who from constant reading of tragic stories gain strange ideas of personal association with them. Young Beattie's friend thought this man was such and sought to quiet him.

The man laughed quite sanely and said: "No, I'm not that sir. I have a motive in declaring myself like this highwayman who could not be found. I ask you, quite calmly, if the Beattie family would give $5000 to see young Beattie cleared of this charge and set free?"

Still in doubt, the man interested in the young prisoner said that surely the family would give $5000. Beattie's father is rich. He would give $50,000—to save his boy's fortune.

"Then listen," demanded the stranger. "I want $5000—not for myself, but for my family. For that sum I will step forward at any hour you name and confess myself the slayer of Louise Owen Beattie. I will do it within an hour after the money is placed in my hands."

"Why? Here's why: I am a consumptive. Look! (He pointed to his protruding cheek bones, to the tell-tale flush on his face and opening his coat, to his shrunken chest). I have less than a year to live. I don't care about that. I'm better off dead. But I have a wife and children. I have all I can do now to support (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2.)

GOVERNOR WILL NOT ATTEND REUNION

Columbus, July 31.—Harmon will not attend the Ohio legislative reunion at Cedar Point this week and deliver a toast on "Our Sovereign State." Likewise Lieut. Governor Nichols will not attend and talk on "Progress of Legislation." At the governor's office it was announced that the governor was too busy to attend the banquet Friday night, but it is known that Saturday morning he is to start on a pleasure trip around the Great Lakes.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., July 31.—Newark turned the tables Sunday, winning both games from the locals, 8 to 3 and 6 to 3. The contests were marred in the first game when Shortstop Steve Ragan, of the Newark club, broke both bones of his right leg just above the ankle. In an exciting play Ragan started to steal the home plate, then changed his mind, and in straightening up his spikes stuck in the clay, twisting his leg and snapping the bones. He is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital here, where he will be compelled to stay for some time. The cheerleaders effect of the accident made play slow. All the local pitchers were pounded hard, and with loose work in the field, Newark proved easy victors. The scores:

RAGAN TIED SCORE WHEN BONE SNAPPED

A special from President George H. Hamilton, who was present at the game at Fort Wayne Sunday, says that the paid attendance was 2546, which helps the Newark club some in its finances. Newark's share of the gate receipts will be a little more than $300.

In speaking of Ragan's injury, Mr. Hamilton's telegram states that both bones of his ankle were broken. Ragan made the steal safely and his run tied the score in the first game. Ragan's injury is a sad blow to the Newark aggregation. He is a player of rare judgment and plays a consistent game at all times. He had a bad day Saturday and was credited with a number of errors, but such days as these have been few and far between in this young man's record.

He will hardly be able to join the team any more this season. Ragan is at present a patient in a Fort Wayne hospital, from which he cannot be removed for a week or more. He will probably be taken to his home in Kansas City as soon as he is able to be moved.

According to information from Secretary Farrell of the National League, Terre Haute has not filed a claim for Ragan and Newark still has a chance to keep this player for next year.

WHEELING OWERS STAND WILLING TO SELL FRANCHISE

(Wheeling Register.)
The management of the Wheeling baseball club stands willing to turn over the Wheeling franchise in the Central League to any man or syndicate formed, of local people. Any man or number of men who desire the franchise have only to step forth and terms can be agreed upon.

Such was the statement of Secretary Will Irwin of the local club to the writer. Mr. Irwin, continuing, said: At the meeting in Indianapolis Friday we received three flattering offers for the local franchise. One of the offers came from South Bend, while I am not at liberty to say where the others came from. If the people want the franchise here they must either give the team better support or take over the franchise.

There are quite a number of local people who are of the opinion that we have made loads of money in baseball. I can truthfully say that we have never made a dollar in baseball but what we have put right back in it again. In fixing up the island ball park and the park up the river we expended between $11,000 and $12,000 and we have spent every cent since that between $400 and $600 for repairs. We have more than $14,000 invested here now.

There are any number of persons anxious to know what we did with the sum of money that was presented us for Boosters' Day. The management secured only $125 out of the Booster Day affair, and while we appreciate this we name the sum to show how little help it was.

"If the people of Wheeling want the Wheeling team, let them support it or let them buy it. We could sell it to outsiders, but we want Wheeling to have a representation in organized baseball and believe if other people get the franchise they may transfer it. We stand ready to agree on terms with any syndicate or reorganizing charge."

In talking over the Indianapolis meeting on Friday, Mr. Irwin said: "I met Mr. Wagner, the prominent manufacturer who has purchased an interest in the Terre Haute club. He surely is a fine fellow. Mr. Hamilton, formerly a theatrical man and a prominent politician of Newark, was also in attendance, as were Bert Annis of Grand Rapids, Angus Grant of Evansville, Louis Wehner of Dayton, and myself.

"The Evansville matter was discussed thoroughly and it seems that high salaries was the cause of the Hoosiers' downfall. The league will take care of the club providing the people of the club continue patronizing the games."

"Another matter brought up at the meeting was that a committee should be appointed by the national commission, composed entirely of disinterested persons. This committee should take a jump around the circuit and take a look at the books of the various clubs to see that the salary limit is strictly adhered to. We found places where clubs have lost sight of the business end of the game and have gone far more than the salary limit in their quest for good players."

The Central League was formed in 1903. George Bement of Evansville was the organizer and was the first president. At that time Dr. P. E. Carson had an interest in the South Bend club, while H. F. Perkins and W. W. Irwin had the local club. The trio mentioned are the only ones of

ONE BIG GAME TUESDAY; PITCHER RILEY MAY WORK

The battered and crippled Newark team returned Monday morning after a road trip which was about as successful as could be hoped. Seven games were played and Newark won four out of the seven. Two were copped from Dayton and two from Fort Wayne.

Wheeling will be the opposing team Tuesday and Pitcher Riley may be the selection of Manager Pendry. He is in good condition and has had a long rest so he should make a good start in his "come back" game. Two games will be played against Wheeling Wednesday afternoon.

The new grandstand will in all probability be far enough along to allow its use for spectators and no doubt many will attend the double header to get a look at the new pitcher and the new grandstand.

The old guard who remain in the Central League. It might be of interest to state that Perkins and Irwin brought the only two pennants to this town we ever had, those of 1905 and 1909, but this seems to have been overlooked in the present difficulty.

The men who for eight years have been at the head of organized ball in this town stand ready to step down and out or continue at the head of the club, if the public supports it. They understand the local conditions exactly and therefore offer to sell at a reasonable price. They are willing to do whatever the public desires, but want the franchise kept in Wheeling. Which shall it be? The answer is up to the public.

O'DAY MAY GET NEW JOB.

Springfield, O., July 31.—A report is going the rounds here that Manager Charles O'Day of the Reapers is to succeed Manager Burke of the Indianapolis club, next season.

C. M. A. DEFEATED BY ATHERTONS

THOUGH OUTHIT NEARLY TWO TO ONE, ATHERTONS GET DECISIVE VICTORY.

Two Accidents Mar Game Which Was Interesting For Start—Atwood Faus Ten Men and Winters Eight.

Yesterday afternoon at Wehrle park the Athertons defeated the C. M. A. club by the score of 5 to 2. Although the Athertons were out-hit nearly two to one, the Atherton's hits came when they had men on bases. In the eighth inning McDermott had his finger dislocated, and in the ninth Allison received an ugly gash over the eye. The score:

SOUTH SIDE BOOSTERS WIN TWO GAMES

The Junior South Side Boosters defeated the Blue Jay team yesterday in a double header by the score of 11 to 16 and 6 to 5. The umpire's decisions in the first contest was so questionable, and though in favor of the Blue Jay team, they were instrumental in having him derided in the seventh inning because of his unreasonable work.

NO HIT GAME AT PATASKALA

Pataskala, July 31.—Pataskala defeated Gahanna here yesterday in a slow game marred by rain. Nevertheless Miller showed fine form, allowing no hits. Farber did good work throughout the game taking 100 pitches which seemed impossible. Score:

CATCHER MARTIN WILL REPORT TO NEWARK CLUB

Terre Haute, July 31.—Dan Mahoney, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, who has insisted on a bonus or being made a free agent at the end of the season, was told Sunday that he was not needed.

Catcher Harry Martin, star of the Central League, last season when with Dayton, who had a try-out with the Pirates and was supposed to have been sold to Terre Haute to which he reported two days ago, left Sunday to join the Newark, O., team by orders from Pittsburgh. There is some misunderstanding in the deal by which he was to come to Terre Haute. W. A. Wayland, pitcher on Arsenal of Chicago Club, has been made business manager of the Terre Haute Club.

OLYMPIANS WIN.

In a well played game the Olympians defeated the Knights of Columbus at Wehrle park Sunday morning by the score of 10 to 3. This was the first time these teams have met this season and they both played hard to win. The Olympian infield was working fine and they put plenty of life in the game and made it quite interesting from start to finish. Cochran went up and caught a hot drive which was tagged for a hit, and threw to Cole and got a man off second which broke up a batting rally for the Knights. Harris pitched nice ball for six innings allowing but three hits and had seven strikeouts. Hibbler finished the game and he had something on them for they finished the game and let them down with two singles. Several flies were dropped in the outfield by the Knights which were costly. Pieri secured two of the five hits scored by the Knights and was a busy man in the field having five putouts. Olympians ..... 0 4 1 1 0 2 0 1-10

Struck out—by Harris, 7; Hibbler, 4; by McGinley 7. Base on balls—Harris, 1; Bibbler 1. McGinley 3. Double plays, McGinley, Sensabaugh and McDonald, Cochran and Cole. Two base hits Cochran, McDonald.

One of the pleasing picnics of the season was that given at the beautiful country home of Miss Ethel Hoskinson, near Chatham, last Wednesday in honor of the Busy Bee Embroidery club. At the noon hour an elaborate picnic dinner was served on the lawn. The afternoon was spent in various games and contests and some very pretty piano selections were rendered. All present spent a very enjoyable day and wished for many more such occasions.

Those in attendance were: Misses Edith Stone, Mae Anderson, Viva Price, Bernice Marple, Elsie McWilliams, Bessie Lingafelter, Lulu Marple, Pearl Blane, Ethel Hoskinson, Maude Weiss, Gertrude Price, Maude Horner, and Blanche Price. The guests of the club were Miss Anna Wright of Ann Arbor, Mich., Mildred Hedges of Ada, O., Nema Swan of Newark, Genevieve Blane of Alexandria, Mrs. Roy Beem of Ashland, O., Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick, Miss Ruby Price and Mrs. Will Hoskinson and little son Carl. The club will meet with Miss Edith Stone in September.

The Merry Sewing Club held their last meeting at the home of Miss Mary Lingafelter, one mile south of Chatham. The hours were spent in sewing and conversation. Several choice sections were given by the members.

Those present were: Misses Berrie Price, Mary Eshelman, Nina McCammon, Helen Beehy, Lawrence Anderson, Bonnie and Lucile Davis, Mary Kountz; the guests were Misses Ethel Young, Maude Lingafelter, Catherine McGonagle, Mary McCammon, Lester Smith and Mrs. M. C. Price and children Harry and Gladys. At 4:30 dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Helen Beeny.

RATHBURN—JONES.
Saturday at 3 p. m. Rev. L. C. Sparks solemnized the wedding of Mr. Harry Rathburn and Miss Marguerite Jones. The ceremony took place at the home of Dr. Sparks and was witnessed by Mrs. Catherine Rathburn, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Lulu Jones, mother of the bride. The happy couple will reside in this city.

Mrs. Charles De Puy Towar and little daughter of Wheeling, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Frank W. Elliott of 130 Hudson avenue.

Mrs. B. I. Jones of Granville, who spent last week with Mrs. Ben B. Jones of Hudson avenue, has returned home.

The members of the Sesame Sewing circle entertained their families and friends with a picnic Wednesday afternoon and evening at Moundbuilders' Park. During the afternoon games and races were enjoyed and at five-thirty a delicious picnic supper was served. The guests numbered forty. The members of the circle present were:

Tells the Stenographer's Side of the Day's Work.

NOW if I were a stenographer," said the Candid Girl, "seems to me I would occasionally tell my employer a few plain truths."
"What like?" asked The Man.
"When he blows in, in the morning, like a near cyclone, rolls up his desk-lid with a bang, and wants to know why such a letter is not answered, and why an appointment hasn't been made with Smith on the phone for him, and why a dozen other things are not done, none of which could be done without his orders, I would like to tell him," said the Candid Girl sweetly, "That just because he has quarreled with his wife at the breakfast table, he needn't take it out on me, or that if he hadn't hit it up with the boys quite so late the night before, he would have a better taste in his mouth the morning after."
"I wouldn't advise you to," said The Man.
"But it might cool him down a bit. I think he'd stop going round like a teetotum, and making a noise, and once more become a reasonable being."
"Perhaps!"
"And I'd like to tell him," went on the Candid Girl, "and a smile curved her pretty lips, "that if he'd only think a minute or two before he began a letter, he could dictate it without changing every other line so that it needed an Assyriologist to decipher what he had said. Or when he does have an idea straight, not to rattle it off at such a rate of speed it would make a phonograph dizzy to get it. I would just like to remind him that a stenographer isn't a high-gear machine that can be made to take five hundred words a minute by throwing on a little more power. Because a person becomes a stenographer doesn't make her capable of taking a letter at any rate of speed that is easiest for her employer to dictate it."
"No, of course not," said The Man uneasily, but reflecting that he always had had an idea that a stenographer ought to take anything put up to her, and remembering how apt he was to pour out a torrent of words regardless whether his stenographer could get them or not, and then be mad if she didn't.
"I would also tell him," said the Candid Girl, "that it is very poor management to leave his letters until four o'clock, so that his stenographer is all worried and hurried when she does them, and has to stay overtime every night to get them out. Because she doesn't have anything to do in the morning is no reason why she should be expected to stay willingly until eight o'clock at night. It isn't her fault that she is idle half the time, and this is no excuse for thinking she should not go when the hour comes for her to go, but that she should remain and finish letters he has delayed to give her."
The Man squirmed a bit at this.
"And then I should like to tell him," concluded the Candid Girl, with a sidelong glance from her pretty eyes, "that while he is dictating letters there is no need to be glancing admiringly at the stenographer's hair, or her complexion, or to be trying to say complimentary things to her. I don't mind flirting once in a very long while," continued the Candid Girl, with an innocent, far-away look in her eyes, "but an office isn't a pink tea, and I would just like to tell him that though a little nonsense now and then from friends may add a bit of spice to life, I am a bit fastidious in such matters, and don't care for it from any Tom, Dick and Harry who may happen to be my employer."
"I am afraid," said The Man, "that you would be soon hunting for a new position."
"Maybe I would," said the Candid Girl, airily. "But I have an idea the best stenographer would have a happier time."

HOUSEHOLD USE

To each pail of water taken for mopping, sprinkling, scrubbing, or cleaning purposes, add three table-spoonfuls of CN. It makes the cleaning easier, kills germs, destroys all odors, purifies the air, destroys ants, roaches and vermin.

Floors—Add three table-spoonfuls of CN to a pail of water when scrubbing or mopping. The dirt, that lodges between the cracks in the floors is always a fertile nursery for germs and vermin. CN destroys them.

Water Closets and Urinals—Flush the closet regularly with CN. Three table-spoonfuls of CN to a gallon of water, scrub the floor and seat frequently with CN solution.

Ice Boxes, Meat and Cake Boxes—When scrubbed with a solution of CN to a gallon of water, the water of ice boxes is made clean and sweet-smelling. Always leave open until thoroughly dried.

Bedrooms, Bathrooms—Use CN solution, one table-spoonful to a gallon of water.

Cellar—Sprinkle with a whisk-broom or watering can, particularly in dark corners, one table-spoonful of CN to a gallon of water. Cellar smells ease Malaria. Mould and mildew breed millions of germs.

Kitchen Sinks—Scrub above and beneath the sink, the sides and edges of the sink itself, flush the pipes with the remainder of the fluid. This will keep the kitchen free from smell of putrid grease, etc. Three table-spoonfuls of CN to a pail of water.

Rubbish Heaps—Sprinkle with a solution of three table-spoonfuls of CN to a gallon of water, preferably with a watering can. When rubbish is neglected, they are very dangerous breeding places for germs.

Garbage—Sprinkle and rinse the empty can with CN solution, three table-spoonfuls to a gallon of water. Leave the wash in the can. The pure odor of CN will keep the whole can pure and unobjectionable to the smell and prevents the breeding of flies and insects.

Whitewashing—Two table-spoonfuls of CN to a pail of whitewash will keep the walls free from germs, insects and parasites and makes the whitewash stick better.

Flies and Mosquitoes will leave the house that is well sprinkled with CN.

This city and the day was spent at Buckeye Lake Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer spent Sunday in Columbus.

Louis Daer of Columbus spent Sunday with his parents here.

Miss Frances Steib of Columbus is the guest of Mrs. Joe Bader.

Mr. and Mrs. Canfield and son Earl are spending a few days at Cedar Point.

Miss Lillian Robinson and James Robinson of Cleveland are guests of Newark relatives.

Miss Helen Lavin returned Friday evening from the Ohio University Summer school at Athens, O.

Miss Mary Haynes of Dayton is visiting her grandparents and brother, Mr. Oda Haynes of Granville.

Mr. Henry Eisengreen of the Holophone company has returned from a two week's trip to New York City.

Master Clyde Goff has returned from his vacation which he has been spending with Mr. Hane Puffers, south of Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Siegfried of Cambridge, O. are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Glauminger of Maple avenue.

Mr. Frank Goff has accepted a position with the street Railway company at Cleveland. His many friends wish him success.

Miss Grace McMillen returned to her home in Zanesville today after spending a week with Miss Clara Miller of Buckingham street.

Mrs. Eva Bloomer, 162 West Locust street, who has been spending a few days at Norwalk and Bellevue, Ohio, has returned home.

Fred Wolfson after a week's vacation spent at Zanesville, Cambridge and other points, has returned to his duties at Hall's drug store.

NEGOTIATIONS MAY PROVE SUCCESSFUL

London, England, July 31—It was learned unofficially through the foreign office here today that the negotiations being conducted between representatives of France and Germany regarding the Moroccan situation are likely to prove successful. It was said that France is prepared to accept Germany's demand of compensation for giving the French a free hand in Morocco. There is still considerable uncertainty whether the agreement will prove agreeable to England and it is pointed out that if England vetoes the agreement a fresh strain will be inevitable. Numerous indications today that there is some truth in the story published here that Germany demands the dismissal of Chancellor Lloyd George for his speech is tending

This 'Is "CN Week"

Complete Directions for the Use of CN

IMPORTANT CN Disinfectant is the most powerful of all disinfectants in general use. It is guaranteed to be five to six times stronger than pure Carbolic Acid, yet it is not poisonous. There is no finer Antiseptic than CN—there is no abler cleanser than CN.

The West Disinfecting Company guarantees every statement made in the following directions:

COCKROACHES

Scrubbing a and sprinkling with solution, one table-spoonful of CN to a gallon of water, will drive away the roaches.

Bedrooms—Stand mattress and bedstead in the sun. Paint the inside of the bedstead with CN, one table-spoonful to a quart of water. Sprinkle the mattress lightly with CN, one table-spoonful to a quart of water. Leave in the sun until dry.

Ants—Follow the course taken by the ants and spray with CN solution. One table-spoonful of CN to a quart of water.

Moths—In clothes closets. Paint the interior lightly with CN pure. Let it stand open forty-eight hours.

Laundry—Handkerchiefs, diapers and soiled linen should invariably be washed in a solution of one table-spoonful of CN to each gallon of water, as this renders the germs harmless and makes the water softer and the washing easier. CN saves the hands of the laundress and makes them soft and white.

House Cleaning for the summer vacation should be invariably accompanied by plentiful flushing of toilets, sinks, drains, with a solution of three table-spoonfuls of CN to a gallon of water to prevent the formation of poisonous, harmful gases. At this time it is well to spray all the dark corners with a solution of one table-spoonful of CN to two quarts of water.

BATH AND TOILET

Use one table-spoonful of CN for the bath on every occasion. CN is superior to ammonia, giving exquisite tonic and softening to the water.

Odors of Perspiration—One table-spoonful of CN to a basin of water applied regularly will banish objectionable odors.

For the Feet and Anus—CN removes all unpleasant and embarrassing odors. For hot, tired, swollen, tender feet relief from pain is effected and discoloration is removed. One table-spoonful to a gallon of water.

For the Skin—CN benefits the skin, prevents skin diseases, makes the skin soft and white. One table-spoonful to a gallon of water.

Stains on the Hands—Tan, dye, walnut, butternut, etc.; soak or rub the hands with CN pure while soaping the hands, then rinse in water.

Hair—CN used in shampooing, one table-spoonful to the basin of water,

SICK ROOMS

Follow special instructions of attending physician; or the following measures will be effective:

Move patient into a well-disinfected room when possible. Remove unnecessary curtains and hangings, wash down walls and floor with CN solution. Or spray the wall paper with CN in the solution of one table-spoonful to a quart of water. Will not discolor or stain. Use CN sheets kept reasonably moistened with CN Disinfectant in the proportion of three table-spoonfuls to a pail of water in the doorway like a curtain. In cases of respiratory diseases a solution of CN should be boiled in the sick room. The fumes will be wonderfully beneficial. Place two or three saucers with the solution about the room; spray the room with the atomizer or whisk whenever air becomes close.

Wash all closets, sink, cuspidors, commodes and other utensils and disinfect all excretions and excreta with the solution of one table-spoonful of CN to a gallon of water.

CONSUMPTION

Every house where Tuberculosis exists CN should be used daily to prevent the spread of the disease. All personal articles, eating and other utensils touched by the patient, should be carefully washed in a solution of CN. CN should be poured in the cuspidors used by the patient and should be used in all cleaning water.

If consumption has not come to your home it should be kept out by systematic disinfection. Consumption is a house disease. Tubercular Bacilli breed in close rooms. They are in every house. There is no more effective safeguard against the outbreak of disease. Use CN in all cleaning operations from cellar to garret. Physicians will advise further treatment.

ANTISEPTIC USE

Cuts—Apply CN pure as quickly as possible. This will stop bleeding, after which bathe frequently with CN, one table-spoonful to a quart of water.

Abrasions, Sores—Wash as quickly as possible with a solution of about ten drops CN in a pint of lukewarm water. Repeat frequently until healed.

Bruiises, Sprains—CN, one table-spoonful to a pint of warm water. Wet a cloth and bind it lightly on the bruise. Renew every hour.

Wounds, Burns—Mix half a table-spoonful of CN to a wineglass of tepid water, then add water to fill a cup, making a solution as hot as it can be borne and soak felon in it. Repeat until relieved.

Ulcers and Abscesses—CN, five drops to one pint of warm water. Bathe frequently, or wet a cloth with this solution and bind it lightly on the sore.

Bleeding—CN, pure, applied night and morning with the finger tip or a soft brush. Rub in well.

Insect Bites, Stings, Ivy and Dogwood Poisoning—Paint with CN pure, allow it to dry. Repeat every hour until pain stops.

Typhoid Fever—By bathing patient in disinfecting solution the body temperature will be reduced.

Head Lice, Dandruff—Use one table-spoonful of CN to a quart of water and shampoo the scalp thoroughly.

Teeth, Gums—Add from three to five drops to a glass of water for tooth wash. It whitens the teeth, overcomes offensive breath. Stops decaying of teeth. Used regularly, it will harden the gums, avert the bleeding and effect a complete cure. A drop of CN rubbed on the gums will relieve toothache.

Antacidism in General—CN, one table-spoonful to a quart of water. Use as a poultice, or wash frequently.

Sore Mouth or Throat—CN as an antiseptic gargle, one to five drops in a glass of warm water. Wash or gargle every hour, and rinse with clean water. This is also excellent for purifying the breath.

APES HELD A FINE OUTING

The A. O. Apes of this city, to the number of about seventy-five, boarded an interurban car and went out into the country a distance of several miles Sunday, where they held a most enjoyable outing. They carried with them well filled baskets, and had a most enjoyable time, a sumptuous dinner being the feature of the occasion. Splendid music was furnished by an orchestra.

WILL REMODEL DAVIES STORE

The business building on South Third street, owned by Mr. Roe Emerson, and occupied by T. L. Davies dry goods store, is to be completely remodelled. It will be built three full stories and extended back to the alley, making the store 198 feet in depth. The store room will be fitted up in first class, up-to-date style, with toilet rooms, etc., and when finished with its new front, will be one of the handsomest and most convenient store rooms in the city.

NEWARK GIRL WAS MARRIED IN COVINGTON

Mrs. Samuel Burrell Saturday received a message from her daughter Mrs. Ernest Thompson, nee Charlotte Vanatta, giving the particulars of her marriage to Mr. Thompson at Covington, Ky.

Miss Vanatta has made her home in this city with her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burrell, ever since leaving St. Mary's academy. Two weeks ago she left home ostensibly to visit an aunt in Columbus. There she met Ernest Thompson, whom she had known for some time. An ardent wooing resulted and the young people decided to elope and surprise their friends. The marriage occurred Thursday and they returned to Columbus Friday where they will probably go to housekeeping.

Mr. Thompson is a salesman for the Independent Fertilizer Co., and has held a responsible position with that firm for several years. His bride is well known in this city and her many friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Baltimore and Ohio Engineer William Graf, who was formerly Assistant Road Foreman of Engines, says the "Chillicothe News-Advertiser," has decided not to take the Newark-Cincinnati passenger runs 102 and 107, which he was offered.

Chicken Terrapin. Cut into dice sufficient cold cooked chicken to measure one and one-half cups. In a saucepan brown one heaping table-spoonful of butter; add one heaping table-spoonful of flour and brown again. Add one cupful of thin cream and stir until smooth and thick; add one-quarter of a table-spoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne, the prepared chicken and two hard-boiled eggs coarsely chopped. Simmer for ten minutes, add three table-spoonfuls of sherry and serve at once.

Baked Whole Tomatoes. Select a number of firm tomatoes, wipe and cut out the stem end of each. In this small cavity put a good table-spoonful of butter and liberal seasoning of salt and pepper. Pack close together in a baking dish, pour in a scant half cupful of boiling water and bake in a quick oven.

Perhaps the average Newark home

himself when he casts his vote and
exercises his influence at both the primaries and the election this fall. And perhaps, too, the thought of himself
will be of more importance than the personal interest of the man who is craving a fifth term for the office of Mayor despite the detriment to the city's good name all over this broad land.

The paper deems it necessary to make this departure

long custom in consequence of the unusual existing conditions at this time.

The names of worthy candidates will be printed in these columns from time to time as matters of news
only, but paid announcements will be excluded absolutely.

NEWARK IN THE LIME LIGHT
The Cleveland Plain Dealer had a similar article on Saturday to that which appeared in the Ohio State Journal over the unfortunate political situation in Newark. The Plain Dealer's article was signed by W. W.
Raynolds, the Columbus staff correspondent of that paper. The article shows that Newark is again in the lime light and will again suffer the odious reputation it gained from the lynching riot of a year ago by the candidacy of Atherton for Mayor, the man whom the world holds as chiefly responsible for the crime. We copy the following from the editorial columns of the Plain Dealer of Sunday, which is the paper's comment on the news
article that it published on Saturday:
"SHAME SOON FORGOTTEN."

"For one to forget or to minimize what offenses he has committed is only human. The child does it, the man does it, the community does it.
Even the punishment that follows the breaking of laws soon is forgotten,
and the offender feels at liberty to repeat what he has done.

It is so in the case of Newark,
which just a year ago was known the world over as one of the shames of civilization, a modern city in an enlightened commonwealth that had given itself over blithely to lynching
and general lawlessness. And now Newark returns to her wickedness.

"There were a few months in which it appeared that the forces of decency would prevail in that city."
[This was when the city was regaining her reputation by the faithful prosecution of the participants in the lynching riot.]

After describing Newark's present conditions, since the candidacy of Atherton for Mayor has been thrust
upon the city, the Plain Dealer concludes thus:

"The support of every decent citizen, no matter on which side of the liquor question he may be, will go to those who may be attempting to awaken the public conscience of Newark and bring it back to some realization of the responsibility of citizens to the state."

There is not a responsible
man in all Newark today,
(other than Atherton) of
any shade of political belief,
who would not step aside at
this critical moment and defer
his candidacy to a time
when our city would have recovered from the injury it
has suffered in consequence of the lynching notoriety.

Atherton's Disgusting Boast

To a reporter in the Columbus Dispatch Atherton makes boast of how
he is going to "beat" the other Democratic candidates at the primaries. But when 3,000 or more aroused, honest Democratic voters turn out to save their party's future and the city's credit Atherton will find that his usual
method of riding rough shod over other candidates, who are more creditable
and more worthy than he, will not be the easy task this year that it has been for him in the past. It is well known that Atherton has made an active, personal canvass since last January. It is also known that his methods have deterred other Democrats from being candidates who are his superior in every attribute that constitutes an honorable, meritorious citizen. If these men do not come before the primaries as candidates it is because they are patriotic and willing to make personal sacrifices in order to save the opposition to Atherton from being too much divided. It is doing these aspirants justice by stating that they are thoroughly in accord with the large majority of Democratic voters
who are taking the stand that a man must be chosen at the primaries for Mayor whose nomination will not be spread broadcast over the country and held up in the magazines and great newspapers as a blot upon our city.

The fact for Newark voters to consider is that Herbert Atherton's candidacy for Mayor threatens another blot on the fair name of our city—one that will be more damaging to the city's interests than the odium of the original lynching tragedy. The press of the entire country will furnish the proof of this.

CONGRESSMAN ASHBROOK'S EFFORTS FOR ADDITIONAL
MAIL SERVICE FOR NEWARK

The Committee on Expenditures in the Postoffice Department, of which Congressman Ashbrook is chairman, is conducting daily hearings, and for ten days past has been investigating the Lewis Publishing Company's case, of St. Louis, which promises rich developments.

On Tuesday this Committee ad-journcd the Lewis Case for a day to investigate the hundreds of complaints
and protests at Brooklyn, New York,
because of reduction in the carrier
force and deliveries from five to three per day. Complaint is general that the service has been reduced, and extentions of service denied because of Mr. Hitchcock's alleged desire to put the Postoffice Department on a paying basis, and so secure as he believes, a great political asset.

Congressman Ashbrook has for some time been trying to secure, at least, one additional carrier for Newark to serve the North End, in consequence of appeals to him from residents of that region, and therefore improved the opportunity to inquire of
Hon. C. P. Grandfield, First Assistant Postmaster General, who was before the committee, and who has charge of the city delivery service, why the request had been denied.

The Advocate reprints from pages
1622 and 1623 of the printed hearings
of Chairman Ashbrook's committee the following colloquy:

The Chairman: I would like to make an inquiry of you, Dr. Grand-field, that is not pertinent to the Brooklyn case, but it is a matter that I believe is of general interest and
of enough concern to warrant my inquiring at this time.

I first want to ask you how the percentage of increase for the last fiscal year of the extension and enlargement of the city delivery service compares with the preceding year? I assume that there is a natural increase each year in the city carrier
force.

Mr. Grandfield. The increase in number has not been as great as heretofore. The increase in the territory served, I think, has been fully as great as heretofore. We have now reached a stage where 15,000
out of 30,000 carriers are receiving $1200 a year, and we naturally feel that a $1200 carrier is worth more
to the government than a $600 carrier; in other words, he can do more work, and he does more work. We believe the service is better, because it has better supervision. The office time has been materially reduced
and for that reason, I think, the extent of the territory served has been increased fully as much in the last year as in the past, but the number of carriers has not increased as rapidly as heretofore.

Mr. Austin. You have reduced the expense of your department, in favor of a Democratic Congress.

Mr. Grandfield. Absolutely so.
The Chairman. I want to inquire of you whether or not in cities of 25,000 or 30,000 people it is the regular practice of the Postoffice Department to make delivery by rural carriers within the city limits?

Mr. Grandfield. Oh, no, I know of no such case.

The Chairman. Well, I am very glad you do not. But I want to call your attention to a case within my own district.

Mr. Grandfield. It sometimes happens, of course, that there would be a half dozen people living on a country road within the city limits. They would not be served by a city carrier, because the carrier's time is all taken up, and we could not put on an additional carrier to serve a half dozen people; but these six families

could be put on a rural route and served without inconvenience.

The Chairman. In view of your statement, I believe this information will be an enlightenment to you. I want to say that in the city of Newark, Ohio, in my home county, delivery is made to a considerable number of residents in the west portion of that city by a rural carrier,
while in the north end, an addition of two or three hundred people, possibly more, they are also supplied by rural carriers. I want to inquire why they are not given the same service residents of other portions of the city enjoy. Two or three hundred people reside there at least, and I think more, who are supplied entirely by a rural carrier, one mail per day. A petition of considerable length was sent to you some months ago, and repeated requests have been made for additional carrier service, but today they still are supplied
by rural carriers.

Mr. Grandfield. Without knowing anything about the case, I will say this, that we can hardly be expected to put on an additional carrier
to serve one hundred or two hundred people. One city letter carrier is supposed to serve from twelve to sixteen
hundred or two thousand people.
If we put on an additional carrier to serve but 200 people, the service would be very expensive. Take the case of a man who builds a house
in a suburban district within the city limits. The water main has not been extended out there, and he must wait until a sufficient number of people live there to justify the city in extending the water main. The same rule applies in the city delivery letter service.

The Chairman. It occurs to me that if the service in this city is not already overtaxed, this district to which I refer might be embraced in
the route of some carrier already established, and if the regular carriers
can not handle the district in question, then additional service should be given.

Mr. Grandfield. But suppose it would require an additional carrier
to serve this 100 or 200 people, would the department be justified, in an endeavor to deliver this mail, to go to the expense of putting on a single carrier to do the work of about one-sixth of a carrier?

The Chairman. I refer to the fact that in the west part of the city a considerable number of residents are compelled to be supplied by rural service, while in the north end, a
new addition has sprung up there,
containing, I said, two or three hundred people, there may be 500—I do not want to make a definite statement as to that—but an addition containing stores and other places of business, and they are receiving their mail by rural carrier,
one mail a day, the same as a rural resident 10 miles away.

Mr. Grandfield. I have no doubt that an inspector has been instructed to go to Newark, Ohio, to ascertain whether it is feasible to extend the deliveries of the present force,
or whether or not there is sufficient
work there to justify our putting on an additional carrier. Of course I do not recall the case.

Mr. Austin. I would like to ask the chairman of the committee a question right here. You suggested the other day that you were a farmer. Are you in favor of taking from New York City and Brooklyn the six deliveries a day and giving the farmers two deliveries a day on the rural free delivery routes? I am in favor of that proposition.

The Chairman. I want to say this to Mr. Grandfield and Mr. Austin, that while I commend Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Grandfield for their economy and for their evident desire to place the Postoffice Department on a paying basis, yet it should not be at the expense of the impairment of the service. The postal service concerns everybody, and it does not matter to the people whether it is on

CONGRESSMAN W. A. ASHBROOK INTRODUCES BILL TO DISPOSE OF THE NEW POSTOFFICE SITE

Recently Congressman W. A. Ash-brook, who for several years has been laboring unceasingly in the interest of Newark's proposed Federal building,
introduced a bill providing for the disposal of the present site, corner of East Main and First streets, and for the purchase of a new site for the building. The disposal of the present site is made necessary from the fact that the grounds are not large enough
to accommodate the building that will be constructed by reason of the increased appropriation made by Congress for this purpose, the total appropriation now being $190,000.
While it is a fact that Congress decided in the beginning not to consider bills of this kind, still Mr. Ashbrook is in hopes that he will be able before adjournment to secure the passage of the bill. Following is a copy of the bill introduced by Mr. Ashbrook:

A BILL
To provide for the disposal of the present Federal building site at Newark, Ohio and for the purchase of a new site for such building.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized,
in his discretion, to dispose of the present Federal building site near the corner of First and East Main streets in Newark, Ohio, in such manner and upon such terms as he may deem for the best interests of the United States,
and to convey such site to the purchaser hereof by the usual quitclaim
deed; and to acquire by exchange for such present site or by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, a new site for said building; such new site shall be centrally and conveniently located and
of such size that an open space of such width, including streets and alleys, as
the Secretary of the Treasury may determine may be maintained about the Federal building, when constructed, for the protection thereof from fire in adjacent buildings.

a paying basis or not. What the people are entitled to, and what they ought to have, is good service; and in this city I refer to there is not sufficient service. I know that this is the case in other cities, and whether it is true or not, complaint is made that, in order to place the Postoffice Department on a paying basis, increased carrier force and extentions of service are held up. I protest against this.

Mr. Grandfield. After 25 years of service in the Postoffice Department, I give it as my candid opinion
that the postal service is on a higher plane and that a better service is given the people now than ever before.

The result of the above inquiry
made last Tuesday is that the Postoffice Department has since ordered an inspector to come here to investigate
the demand for additional carrier service.

The First Assistant Postmaster
General subsequently informed Mr.
Ashbrook that no recommendation for the service had ever been made by the Newark Postmaster which will account
for inaction and delay.

Congressman Ashbrook advises the Advocate that he believes if the demand for an additional carrier is now recommended by Mr. Heisey that the Inspector will make a favorable report, and the demand will be granted
by the Postoffice Department.

A long petition was sent Mr. Ash-brook some months ago asking for the carrier and his efforts will certainly be appreciated by all concerned.

Our Congressman is ever awake and strictly on the job.

The game scheduled for today be-

played off yesterday by consent of both clubs, thus giving the two teams a day off. Newark left last night for this city, and arrived about 10 o'clock this morning. Several of the players took advantage of the day off to visit friends
and will join the team here Tuesday.

Before leaving for Indianapolis last week, President Hamilton thought there would be two games Tuesday at Wehrle park with Wheeling. There will be one game Tuesday and two on Wednesday. The contractor will have things in excellent shape by Wednesday noon. The grandstand will be completed and the roof will have been covered with the roofing paper. In fact the conditions at the grounds will again be normal. Men are hard at work today getting the seats in posi-

Col. J. F. Ryan, manager of the Union

given Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 4. The Colonel has ordered a special carload

he expects the town to be filled with visitors who will come for the big cele-

plenty of assistants to carve and any number of waiters to hand out the juicy, succulent melons.

He breaks his back and he breaks his heart as he toils away in the clanking mart. His griefs have whitened his scanty hair, and he is bent 'neath a load of care. He's an old man now, though in years he's young, and his feet are tired and his knees are sprung;
from the treadmill stunt he is never free, and his wife is planning a Yellow Tea. He's sweating blood when the bills fall due, and he walks the floor all the long night through; and he has dreams of a sombre day, when a sheriff's deputy comes his way. He greets the dawn with a sinking heart; he wears his clothes till they fall apart;
no rest for him till he'll cross the ridge—and his wife is playing a

WILLIAM JENNINGS
DIED AT HOSPITAL
SUNDAY AFTERNOON

William E. Jennings, age 25 years,
one of the victims of the unfortunate accident at Wehrle park a week ago, died Sunday afternoon at 2:40
o'clock after suffering for seven days
from serious internal injuries.

Jennings lapsed into unconsciousness Sunday morning at 3 o'clock and from that hour until his suffering
was relieved by death, he did not recognize any of the members of his family.

It will be remembered that the deceased was a spectator at the Wheeling-Newark ball game at Wehrle park a week ago Sunday. He was not seated on the bleachers at the time of the accident but was on the ground near the end when the collapse came. He was caught under the debris and besides numerous minor injuries his pelvic bone was fractured and his abdomen badly crushed.

With the other patients, he was hurried to a hospital where he received the best surgical attention and careful nursing but his injuries were such that he could not survive.

Mr. Jennings was a native of Newark, being born in the house at 59 Wilson street, where his parents reside
and where the body now lies in death.

He was a machinist by trade and served his apprenticeship at the Scheidt machine shops. He was employed at this place for ten years.
Presently he was working for the Ramey Manufacturing company in Franklin street, doing the machine
work on parts for their vacuum cleaner. One week before receiving his fatal injuries, he was running a thrashing machine in the country,
but expected to resume his position
with the Ramey Company this week.

Besides his parents, Frank and Lena Jennings, he leaves two brothers and a sister: Frank Jr., of Washington, D. C., Harry and Tillia, both the latter living at home.

He was a member of St. Frances de Sales Catholic church and the funeral services will be held from that church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Father O'Boylan officiating. Interment will be made at Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Joplin, Mo., July 31.—Frantic dig-

and this morning is expected to give fresh air in a mine chamber and save the life of Joseph Clary, if he has not already been suffocated. Clary was entombed in a cave at the White Oak coal mine yesterday. After nine conditions had been hoisted to the surface, a six inch hole is being bored
this morning in an effort to save him.
Food has been passed down through a pipe running 70 feet through the earth
and it is believed that this has reached the imprisoned man. Clary has not responded to calls through the pipe
since late last night.

carry ventilation to Joseph Clary, 21,
who is entombed in a White Oak mine
drift, missed the mark today and Clary's condition, 700 feet under the cave-in is unknown. The drilling of a second shaft was started immediately
and scores of men and boys are working in short relays to effect the rescue.

WHERE ARE THE DEAD NON-ELECT?

Our Friends, Neighbors, Holy, Unholy, Civilized, Vile?

HEAVEN ON EARTH BY AND BY.

Pastor Russell Claims Bible Teaching to Be Not Universalism, but a Universal Opportunity to Hear of the "Only Name Given Under Heaven" Whereby We Must Be Saved.

Galesburg, Ill., July 30.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn, and now also of London, delivered addresses to large audiences at the Galesburg Chautauqua today. His topics were, "Where Are the Dead?" and "The Judgment of the Great White Throne." We report the former. Each address lasted for nearly two hours, but so deeply interested were the audiences that they seemed not to note the flight of time. He said:—

No other question could be of deeper interest to thinking people than the one now before us—"Where Are the Dead?" Our ancestors, our neighbors, our friends, are dead or dying, and ourselves with them. What will be our condition when the spark of life flickers out? I have no new revelation on this subject. I have merely for my guide what is recognized by all Christians as the Divine revelation on this subject—the Bible. I hold that there is no other source of information comparable to it.

Before presenting his own findings on the subject, in the Bible, Pastor Russell reviewed the findings of others—Christian in general. The agnostic view, that there is no life beyond the tomb, he could not entertain. He believed that man's organism, so much higher than that of the brute, implies not only an all-wise Creator, but His benevolent intention for man's future. He examined the Catholic view, and, while acceding full liberty to every Catholic to believe what to him seems reasonable respecting the dead, Pastor Russell could not agree with Roman Catholic teachings. He summarized their view to be that a very saintly few were fit for heaven and that they went thither. He complimented the justice of their intentions, that a comparatively small number of humanity were worthy of eternal torture.

For his own part, he could not imagine any human being, on account of any human weakness or depravity, as meriting endless torture. The Catholic view, that all heathen and practically all Protestants and Catholics go in death to purgatory, he could not agree with for two reasons. First, he finds no Scriptural authority for such a view, and secondly, his mind cannot accept the thought that an all-wise, all-just, all-loving and powerful Creator will torture His creatures for centuries in any such manner as Catholics generally believe, and as Dante's great poem, "Inferno," so graphically depicts.

Our Protestant View is Worse.

Pastor Russell declared that he was a Protestant, in large measure because his parents were such. But he declared that while he sees many truths both in Protestant and in Catholic teachings he considers that the Protestant view respecting the hereafter of the dead the most diabolical conception to be found on the face of the earth, the grossest blasphemy against the Divine character and provision for humanity. Had he nothing better to offer he would not be addressing his audience on the subject.

Perplexed and disconcerted by his early teachings, he had, when a youth, discarded all human creeds, and the Bible as well—believing that the latter was the basis for the former. It was a happy day for him when he learned that this was a mistake—when he learned that the creeds of the Dark Ages are diametrically opposed to the teachings of God's Word. Now his Bible has become to him a new book—the most wonderful book in the world. Its teachings he now sees to be, beyond all comparison, the most logical—the only rational presentation, and a most glorious one respecting man—explaining his past, present and future as prearranged by a wise, gracious and all-powerful Creator.

Two Protestant Views.

Protestant views respecting the hereafter are various, but two in particular represent Protestant thought in general: (1) The Calvinistic theory; (2) the Arminian theory.

Five centuries ago there were no Protestants—all were Catholics and believed in three places for the dead—heaven for the saintly few; Purgatory for the general mass of mankind; and hell, everlasting torture, for the incorrigible. Luther and conditors got to studying the Bible, and finding nothing there respecting purgatory and mass for the dead, they threw these out. Figuratively, they smashed completely the idea of Purgatory. A little later they were perplexed and said to each other, "We have smashed Purgatory, but now what shall we do with all these thousands of millions who have been there in our imagination for centuries—roasting, sizzling, and hoping some day to attain an eternity of bliss.

The thought of their responsibility in connection with the thousands of millions blanching their cheeks and made their hearts quail. They looked at each other in terrified bewilderment. Their noble, generous hearts led them to desire to put the whole mass directly into heaven, but, as they searched the Scriptures on the subject, they found, as they had always believed as Catholics, the Bible teaching that only the saintly, the footstep followers of Jesus, the "overcomers" of the world, are fit for the Kingdom of Heaven. In despair they said to each other, "This leaves nothing for us to do but enlarge hell many times and stuff the entire mass therein, writing over the doorway, 'Who enters here abandons hope.' They did it, but it was a sorrowful matter, quite contrary to their generous hearts.

It was when the Reformers were feeling very sad for what they felt they had been obliged to do with the heathen and with their neighbors and friends and the vast majority of their own families, that Brother Calvin appeared. "Cheer up," said Calvin. "Of course we all are sorry, but it is not our fault. The shame of such a conclusion is not ours. I will show you the way out of the dilemma: charge the whole terrible business upon Almighty God! Say that He foreordained and predestinated things thus, and that we cannot help it!"

Pastor Russell said that these good men hesitated for a time about charging against God what they had been ashamed to acknowledge as their own plan and doing; but seeing no way out of the difficulty they finally agreed, and then extolled John Calvin as the greatest theologian the world had ever known. Calvin arranged the entire matter into a philosophy and his doctrine became the basis of all creeds of the Reformation period, including the Westminster Confession of Faith, which is generally acknowledged by Presbyterians, Baptists, etc. Thus, said Pastor Russell, we Protestants got our diabolical theory respecting the dead. We "must confess that it is much worse than the theory of our Catholic friends. If we could not accept theirs because it was unloving, unmerciful, unjust and ungodly, surely we cannot accept any longer our own.

Brother Wesley's Gospel of Love.

The blessings of the Reformation were considerably overshadowed and handicapped by the great Calvinistic error of an all-powerful God, destitute of love, vindictive and devilish to a degree never approximated by any human degenerate. Centuries later that good man, John Wesley, appeared. His soul cried out against the injustice and lovelessness of Calvinism; and his claim that God is love has permeated Christendom to such an extent that even those denominations which profess the Westminster Confession of Faith and Calvinistic theories do not really believe it. We must love Brother Wesley for his largeness of heart even though we must confess that he had a less logical head than had Brother Calvin.

Brother Wesley and the majority of his followers failed to see the inconsistency of his claim that God is love, and yet that nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand are to be eternally tormented—because the mass of them had never heard of "the only name whereby we must be saved;" and because others who had heard did not live contrary to their tendencies; did not live saintly lives!

Pastor Russell declared that Wesley and Calvin put exactly the same saintly few into heaven, and put all the remainder into eternal torment. Hence it was a mere question between these two men as to why this was so, and not as to the fact. Calvin said, "It is God's will and He foreordained it thus." Wesley said, "No, God is love, and love would never do thus. It was the result of Divine lack of wisdom in their creation, and lack of power to help after their creation. Hence the fate of the masses."

Brethren, We Do Not So Believe!

Pastor Russell said. There is a great mistake. None of these theories satisfy your heads and hearts, nor mine. The difficulty is that we have been trying to accept the errors of the Dark Ages instead of going clear back and making our theology afresh from the words of Jesus, the Apostles and prophets. Let us do this now and find the beauty of the Divine Plan in the Bible, and a glorious Divine character such as we know it should have—far beyond human wisdom, justice, love and power. So the Lord says: "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways and My plans higher than your plans."

Where Are the Dead?

The Bible confirms the ablest findings of science when it tells us that the dead are dead and not alive at all, anywhere. The Scriptures declare, "The dead know not anything;" "their souls come to honor and they know it not; they come to dishonor but they perceive it not of them." Again the Bible says, "There is neither wisdom nor device nor knowledge in the grave (sheol, the Bible hell) whither thou goest" (Ecclesiastes ix. 10).

Where, my dear friends, is the key to the whole problem? The Bible hell is the grave, sheol, hades, the death state. The salvation which God has provided is the salvation from sin and from death. The hope set before us in the Gospel is the resurrection of the dead. If nobody is dead there can be no resurrection of the dead. It is not the body which dies that God has promised shall be resurrected, but the soul. It was not Adam's body merely that was punished with death, but it was his soul, which involved the body and every power Adam possessed. All of his children have shared with him in his fall, in his death.

God's provision for the salvation of mankind is that "As by man came death [not eternal-torment], by a man [the man Christ Jesus] comes also the resurrection of the dead. For as all in Adam die, so all in Christ shall be made alive" (I Corinthians xv. 22).

The Redemption Price Given.

Not only do the Scriptures clearly set forth that the wages of sin is death and that thus death passed upon the entire human race (Romans v. 12), but they also set forth that the redemption price which Jesus gave was death—"He poured out His soul unto death." He made His soul an offering for sin (Isaiah liii. 10, 12).

As a result, "in due time," there will come a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and of the unjust. By the just is meant those justified and brought into harmony with God through faith in Christ. By the unjust is meant all others. Thus the Church will share in the First Resurrection with Christ; these are the Elect of the Scriptures. Their resurrection and complete change of nature has already begun in them through the begetting of the Holy Spirit.

They will be like the angels and like Christ, who is the express image of the Father's person. Like God and the angels they, as spirit beings, will be invisible to mankind. These with their Lord and Head will set up the Kingdom of God—the Messianic Kingdom. "They will live and reign with Christ a thousand years." These are the saintly ones, a class recognized by Catholics and Protestants, by Luther, Calvin and Wesley. All are agreed respecting such a class. The entire point of discrimination is respecting the masses of our race for whom Christ died and for all of whom the various creeds provide torments untellable, unthinkable.

The Non-Elect to Be Blessed.

Brothers Luther, Calvin and others, when they smashed purgatory as unscriptural, should have said, "We do not know where those poor creatures are whom we so long supposed were in purgatory." They should not have felt it incumbent upon them to enlarge hell and to put the thousands of millions out of purgatory into it. But, as a matter of fact, they all are in hell; the difference is that it is the hell of the Bible—the grave, the unconscious state of death, and not a place of suffering and torture.

Do not the Scriptures repeatedly tell you that the dead fall asleep? St. Paul writes of those who fell asleep in Christ; and again, of those who "sleep in Jesus;" and again that all would sleep except those saints who would be changed in a moment, at the second coming of Messiah. Do not we read that St. Stephen, stoned to death, fell asleep? Did not Jesus say, "Our friend Lazarus sleepeth," and subsequently explain his meaning saying, "Lazarus is dead"? Do we not read that "Abraham slept with his fathers," and so of the kings and prophets and all, good and bad? Abraham's fathers, being heathen, none will claim that they sleep in heaven. Our Catholic friends will not claim that they sleep in purgatory, and surely nobody would claim that they could sleep in eternal torture. Where, then, do they sleep, and for how long? The Bible answers, "They that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake" (Daniel xii. 2). The Bible tells us that the weeping, sighing and dying of the present time will give place to a glorious morning of better things, the resurrection morning.

Not Universalism, but Universal Opportunity.

Pastor Russell disclaims Universalism; he cannot find it in the Bible, else he would preach it. He finds the Bible to teach a universal opportunity for salvation and everlasting life, but that the gift of God, eternal life, will be given only to those who will avail themselves of the opportunity. Upon all others will come the wages of sin, namely, death. Those who sin wilfully, preferring wrong to right, after being granted full opportunity for reformation, will be destroyed in the Second Death, utterly, as St. Peter declares, "like natural, brute beasts" (II Peter ii. 12).

Heaven on Earth By and By.

It was not in vain that the Redeemer taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." That glorious time will come when, as the Prophet declares, "Every knee shall bow and every tongue confess Messiah; and when the knowledge of the Lord shall fill the whole earth, as the waters cover the great deep; and when none shall need longer to say to his neighbor and his brother, Know thou the Lord, because all shall know Him." Then "they shall build houses and inhabit them, and plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them, and long enjoy the work of their hands." Then "the wilderness shall be glad and blossom as the rose;" and "the earth shall yield her increase;" and the Lord will make His earthly footstep glorious (Isaiah li. 3). This is the hereafter which God has provided for the world of mankind in general.

But this long-promised restitution blessing to the world, lifting them up out of sin and death conditions, cannot come until first the Royal Priesthood shall have been selected. The election of the Church, in progress during this Gospel Age, is God's preparation for the blessing of mankind. The elect saints will be kings and priests, judges, etc., in association with Jesus for the uplifting of the thousands of millions of humanity—"in due time."

that this is allowed through ignorance; if it is through ignorance, that ignorance is the result of unpardonable neglect.

The water from the lake leaves it by a gate, near what is known as Sella's Point, and the gates are in charge of a canal employee named Alex Richardson. A call was made at Mr. Richardson's house, but he was working down the south canal and could not be seen. Mrs. Richardson said that he had had trouble with unknown persons, who opened the gates wider than they should be, during his absence.

The canal running south from the lake is a beautiful stretch of water for about three miles, on a level with the lake. It makes a good course for boating and affords connection between the lake and Millersport for grocery boats that visit cottages all along the banks of the lake. About three miles below the lake is a lock and a dam, through which water flows constantly, to supply a paper mill five miles further down, at Baltimore.

As for the claim that "evaporation" is responsible for the lowering of the lake, the "Chittenden Report"—which is a handbook on water supply across the state, from a report made by Captain Hiram M. Chittenden on the feasibility of a ship canal—says that evaporation of canal reservoirs in the state of Ohio is three feet a year. But to offset this there is rainfall in a year amounting to 36 inches.

In Captain Chittenden's report figuring on the water supply available from the reservoirs, he does not take into his calculations at all the matter of evaporation.

Of course, it might be said that the greater part of the evaporation comes during the hot months when there is complaint about the low water. But it is also true that the hot months are also the wettest months of the year. The precipitation, normal, at Columbus, is about the same as that at the reservoir, and the United States weather bureau figures at the Columbus station show that the rainfall for May, June, July and August is more than 38 per cent of the rainfall for the entire year.

During these four months the average is more than 3 1-2 inches, and during no other months of the year does it go above three inches, with the exception of February, 3.07, March, 3.21, and November, 3.11.

The feeder is badly grown up with vegetation on its upper ends, so full of trash, boards and other drift carried when it does have water from hard rains, deposited in it by the runs which empty into it below the head, that it would now require two or three months to clean it out, unless a large force was put to work.

When the Ohio canal was in operation, the "Licking reservoir," as it was then called, supplied water for the "summit" of the system and for a portion of the "slopes." With the necessity for supplying a full stream in the canal cut off, it would seem to a lay observer that it should be a simple matter to keep water in the lake itself—not a complicated matter of hydraulics, but a matter of husbanding the supply instead of wasting it, and the use of ordinary good care and ordinary judgment in giving every aid possible in collecting the water from the 90 square miles of watershed which are—or should be—drained into the lake.

On this watershed is a rainfall during a year of near 60,000,000,000 gallons of water—during the four summer months of more than 20,000,000,000 gallons, one-twentieth of which latter supply, if run into the lake, would keep a good level of water constantly. There is no lack of water—only a lack of proper care to get a part of it into the lake and a lack of care of what does get into the lake. There is no danger of getting too much, as the waste-weir will care for it, and so will the canal. It has enough leaks to care for plenty of it.

As much attention given to supplying water for the hundreds of cottage-owners and boat-owners, and for their thousands of friends, patrons and visitors during the summer, as is given to supplying water to the corporations which are profiting by their contracts with the board at the expense of the mass of the people would help matters, even if it did not remedy them, and to that care these people are entitled, just so long as the state continues to charge them for leases and boat permits.

JOHN FLANAGAN ENTERTAINED AT BIG OX ROAST

For some time past Mr. John Flanagan, the North Fourth street baker, who makes a specialty of his "Tip-Top" bread, which is to be found on sale at nearly every grocery in the city, has been contemplating giving an outing or "Tip-Top" picnic to the proprietors of the groceries who handle his bread and their clerks and friends, which was held Sunday. Fully 500 people from this city boarded the early morning cars and went down to Wilhelm's "White City" just east of Black Hand, where the outing was held.

The picnic and outing is said to have been one of the biggest events held this season. The weather was all that could be desired and the time most pleasantly spent in the shade of the grand old trees at this most popular resort.

Mr. Flanagan established a lasting reputation as a model host at the outing. He devoted himself assiduously to the entertainment of his guests and nothing was too good for them.

At 10 o'clock in the morning a fine lunch consisting of sandwiches and other edibles was served.

The big feature of the day was the ox roast. Mr. Flanagan had secured a young animal which was roasted to a turn by that skilled chef, Mr. Peter Ritzer, and his able assistant, Mr. Robert Smoots. At 2 o'clock, announcement was made that the ox had been done and all gathered around the long tables that had been set and partook of a most sumptuous dinner, the principal feature of which was the roast beef, which was pronounced by all to be the finest they had ever partaken of. Fully an hour was spent at the tables discussing the good things that had been provided and when the appetite of all had been satisfied, Mr. Flanagan came in for many words of praise from his friends.

During the day some fine music was rendered by an orchestra and the enjoyment of the occasion was added to by the singing and dancing of Messrs. Moser and Brown. It was an occasion that will long be remembered by all who were present.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT MALARIAL POISONING

Malaria is a disease which gradually destroys the strong, nourishing elements of the blood. When the malarial poison begins to absorb the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation, we see pale, sallow complexions and a general impairment of health. As the blood becomes weaker the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions break out on the flesh. Malaria is blood poverty, and the only way to cure the trouble is to enrich and purify the circulation. S.S.S. is especially adapted to the cure of malarial troubles because it contains no harmful minerals, and while ridding the system of the malarial germs, S.S.S. builds up the entire constitution by its fine tonic effects. If you are suffering with Malaria begin the use of S.S.S. and rid yourself of this weakening disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How a Dog Became
A Baby Bear's
Foster Mother

"Daddy, of all of you reasoners know what a foster mother is?" asked Judy for their journey to the Land of Nod.

"There's a boy named Billy Foster in my school," said Jack after some deep thinking. "I suppose his mother is a Foster mother."

"Whoop!" exploded daddy.

"Isn't Jack ridiculous?" asked superior Evelyn.

"Well, anyhow, he gave me an answer," said daddy when he could stop laughing, "and that's more than you did, Miss Finelady."

"No, Jack," went on daddy; "Mrs. Foster is Billy's own dear mother. A foster mother is one who brings up children other than her own. Sometimes she is very nice, and more often she isn't, but that is not a pleasant story, so we won't think about it."

"The foster mother in this case is a country place near San Francisco which belongs to a friend of mine who has a lovely place in the country. She had a nice little family of three puppies some months ago, but they all fell ill of distemper and died one by one."

"Poor Judy was distracted, and it was enough to bring the tears to one's eyes to see her wandering all over the estate looking for her babies."

"Well, my friend has a boy just a little older than Jack who went to visit an uncle way up in the mountains, and when he came back—what do you think he brought along in a great big basket?"

"Jellies and cakes!" shouted Jack.

"Not a bit of it," replied daddy. "It was a cute little brown cub as black and shiny as my Sunday hat and full of more tricks than even our Jack here."

"When Gerald—that was the boy's name—heard of the death of Judy's babies he cried, although he is as brave a little chap as I know, and then a bright idea struck him. 'Let's make a baby out of my bear,' he said."

"Splendid!" cried his parents. "Have you named him yet?"

"No," said Gerald, "but I think now that I'd like to call him Panch."

"Splendid again!" said his parents, and they all went out to see Judy in the barn.

"Well, the adoption didn't take more than a minute. Judy just gathered up Panch in her paws, and he said 'Woof!' and went to sleep."

"What will become of Judy after Panch gets big enough to eat her at one bite I don't know, but let us hope for the best. It will make another story anyhow."

HEARS FROM OLD HERO OF MEXICAN WAR

Captain Beattie of Charlevoix, Mich.,
Sends Greetings to Comrades.
News of Granville.

Granville, July 31.—Miss Eleanor E.
Fisher, daughter of Captain John A.
Fisher, the aged Mexican War Veteran of this place, who so efficiently performed the duties of secretary at the recent meeting of the Ohio Association of Mexican War Veterans held in Newark, has received a very interesting

letter from Comrade Beattie, an old Mexican War veteran of Charlevoix,
Mich., and his interesting daughter,
Miss Elizabeth Beattie, both of whom attended the reunion here. Miss Beattie is enthusiastic over the success of the reunion, and the manner in which the veterans were entertained by the people of Newark. Captain Beattie says that a wrong impression has been formed regarding the lines he recited
at the reunion. He says that they were composed by members of Companies
K and D, of the Fifteenth O. V. I., at the west end of the castle of Chapultepec, and that it required two weeks to compose the form, and that a great deal of the credit is due to two regiments. He says that the old veterans realize that their warring days are over, that their time is nearly run, and that soon the last gun will be fired over the graves of the heroes

that fought with Scott and Taylor, Grant and Lee. The Captain also says that Governor Harmon, who has been spending the summer in Charlevoix,
has been having a splendid time playing golf and otherwise enjoying himself. He sends regards to all his friends, both in Granville and Newark,
and asks that he be remembered to Colonel Curran and his wife and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. James of Columbus spent Sunday with friends in the village.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place, John S. Graham was elected delegate and Dr. L. E. Davis, reserve delegate, to the lay convention to be held at Newark the same time the Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist church is to be held there, the week of September 27. At this conference there will be six ministerial and six lay delegates elected to the general conference, which will be held in May of next year. It is thought that the attendance at the Ohio Conference, lay delegates and visitors will be in the neighborhood of 600.

There was a good attendance at the churches of the village on Sunday, especially at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches. At the Presbyterian church the Rev. Mr. Wylie, who is a great favorite with the congregation
of this church, preached, while at the Methodist church, Rev. Francis Evans,
the pastor, preached an unusually powerful and instructive sermon at the morning service, the theme of his discourse being, "The Christian a Peculiar Man."

An exciting game of ball was played
Sunday afternoon on the grounds near Black's bridge, a short distance east of the village, between the team of the Granville Athletic club and the Knights of St. John team of Newark.
The game resulted in a victory for the Granville team by a score of 23 to 16.

Mrs. E. P. Walton of Columbus, who has been spending the summer in Granville at "Hillcrest," the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell, returned home Monday. It is quite probable,
however, that she will return in a few days.

Large numbers of Granville people have been attending the session of the Baptist Assembly at Summerland

Beach, and all are enthusiastic over the new home of the Baptists. The receipts on Granville day were very large and a large per cent was given to the Granville Library fund. The Assembly and Chautauqua features at the lake will hold the popular interest for the remainder of the season.

Prof. John Randall, '01, and wife of Tacoma, Washington, have been enjoying a visit with old Granville friends.

Miss Blanche LaFerre is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. H. Canmuck at her home in Huntington, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Morrow, who have been visiting in Gibsonville for some time, are expected to return home soon.

Henry Thomas, a young man living
a short distance north of the village,

accidentally mashed two of his fingers
Saturday. He was wheeling some bricks
when his hand was caught between two bricks and two of the fingers were mashed. He was compelled to quit work and will be unable to do any labor for several days.

Word has been received here that a son has been born to Mr. and Mrs.
Paul Orcutt. Mrs. Orcutt will be remembered here as Miss Ruth Pickering, class of '08, Denison University.

BOY MURDERER AND THE ALLEGED ACCESSORY TO CRIME

New York, July 31—The murder of William Henry Jackson, the wealthy broker, by Paul Geidel, a seventeen year old boy, will go down in history as one of the most brutal crimes of this city. The youth of the murderer did not keep him from overpowering his victim and forcing

ANNUAL MEETING AND BANQUET OF INSURANCE CO.

K. L. Dickerson, the well known agent of the Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company, attended the Fifth annual banquet of that company, held Saturday at the new Ohio Union building at Ohio State university. The meeting was largely attended by representatives from all over the state. An excellent address was delivered by President W. O. Thompson, upon the "Sacredness of Life Insurance Contracts." Short talks were also made by Hon. Jas. Kilbourne, J. A. Jeffery, State Superintendent of Insurance Moore and several others. Mr. Moore spoke of a need of Home Life Insurance companies and the good they are doing in keeping money at home that otherwise would be sent outside of the state of Ohio for investment.

ELKS STATE MEET AT CEDAR POINT

Exalted Ruler, John M. Sullivan of New Orleans, Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan, Supreme Judge J. S. Johnson and Walter D. Means of Cleveland, will be among the speakers to respond to toasts in a banquet of the Ohio Association of Elks at Cedar Point, to be held on the last day of their annual session, August 17, 16 and 17. H. M. Schlesinger, of Columbus, president of the state organization, will be the toastmaster.

them. When I die they will be penniless. And they are dearer to me than life or name or reputation or anything else. "Give me $5000 so that they may be made comfortable for at least a time and your Henry Clay Beattie may go free with his name cleared and his father's fortune to inherit. I have thought of suicide many times. A quick death is better than a slow one. I'd far rather choose the executioner than the slow, agonizing finish that is inevitable for me. "And the thing is possible—it is easy," he went on eagerly. "As circumstances have it, there is not a living soul in the world who can say that I was not the highwayman, that I was not present at the very time and at the very spot Mrs. Beattie was killed. I was away from my home that night. No one, save my wife, knows where I was or what I did."

For half an hour the stranger pleaded eloquently for his weird proposal, picturing his love for his family, his own indifference to death and the great chance of freeing the crime, wealthy young man to whom years of life and prosperity might be granted.

But he was told gently that such a sacrifice as his, noble as it might be, could not be accepted. He departed, begging the friend of the young prisoner to reconsider, to send him word, so that he might go forward to his death with gladness for the sake of his wife and babies.

This story comes from a man of high integrity. He gives no name, from motives of fairness and respect for the tragic offer.

AMUSEMENT PLACES WELL PATRONIZED

The weather conditions prevailing Sunday made it an ideal day. Gossiping from the result of the worst torrid wave in years the country was suddenly plunged into a cold wave which was comparatively as surprising as the intense heat and it has only been the past few days that Old Sol has seen fit to give us some reasonable weather.

Thousands of people journeyed to the parks on Sunday and Buckeye Lake park received a large quota. August is always a large month at the Park and beginning with Saturday the cottages began to fill and on Sunday a large picnic party came up from Zanesville. In the absence of the ball team the interurban cars were packed during the day with those seeking amusement. Mound-builders Park had a large patronage and all along the Licking river could be seen camping parties and those picnicking for the day.

Dumb luck is always restricted to the deaf mute.

COMPANY G AT CAMP PERRY FOR EIGHT DAYS

Company G, of the Fourth Regiment, O. N. G., under command of Captain Priest, left at an early hour Sunday morning for Columbus, where it joined the other companies of the regiment, numbering in all 700, for the trip to Camp Perry, near Sandusky, where the regiment has gone into camp for eight days. The companies comprising the regiment are A, B and C of Columbus, D of Marion, E, Marysville, F, Circleville, H, Chillicothe, K, Delaware; L, Blanchester and M, Washington, C. H.

Some hard work has been cut out for the regiment and there will be little time for play. There are three battalions, and two of them will be on the firing line each day, and one at drill. Each soldier will get three and one-half days of practice shooting. There will be four battalion drills and two regimental drills during the encampment. The drills will be in close order, extended order and skirmish runs.

The soldiers will be routed out of bed by reveille at 5:30 and will be sent to slumberland by taps at 10. In between, Colonel Barger has a routine prepared which will keep every officer and enlisted man on the jump all the time. The Colonel himself will probably not be able to get more than four hours' sleep a day. After he puts his soldier boys to bed, tucking them in nicely, he will spend several hours mapping out the problems for the next day.

When the soldiers are not drilling in the fields, they will be firing on the range or doing some of the multiplicity of other duties which the commander has outlined for them. Encampments are not what they used to be. Formerly the soldiers took along a pretty white duck uniform and "choker" collars, so as to make a hit with the girls when they went to camp, but it is not on this dressing-up business now. The function of the encampment now is to teach actual soldiering.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following building permits have been issued by the Director of Public Safety:

J. M. Settles, six room frame house on Wing street, $1,600.
E. Mitchell, six room house on Day avenue, $1,400.
Roe Emerson, repairs to three story brick on South Third street, $2,500.

PROVE FOR 15c YOUR KIDNEY AND Bladder Trouble and Backache Can Be Cured! Simply send 15c to Carr Drug Co., 45 Swain Bldg., Muncie, Indiana, and you will receive a full-sized 50c package of Kaskers Kidney Tablets, which relieve Backache in 24 hours. We make this price to you as we have to others who suffered from back, loin and head pains, puffiness under eyes, paleness, shortness of breath, loss of strength, too frequent "calls" strings and sediment in urine. They found relief—so will you. Avoid Bright's Disease and Diabetes by sending the 15c today and prove your trouble can be cured.

BOOSTING

Our city is best done by every man making his business the very best. This will double, or triple, each business and the number of its employees. Such increase would boost our city as nothing else could. For instance, the Buckeye State Building & Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio, is one of the best in its line. Hence its great growth. Assets $4,800,000. It pays 5 per cent on time deposits.

FIXED BAIL OF WILSON IN SUM OF $10,000

L. C. Russell, attorney for Charles Wilson, who is held in the county jail for alleged connection with the Etherington lynching, was in Delaware Saturday, and in an interview with Judge Wickham succeeded in having the court fix the bond for the release of Wilson in the sum of $10,000 which sum Wilson will be able to give. The bail will probably be furnished sometime this afternoon or tomorrow.

Common Pleas Court
In the case of the State of Ohio by Joseph N. Pugh, a taxpayer, vs. The Board of County Commissioners, et al., a suit to enjoin the levy of certain bonds which were advertised and sold by the commissioners. The court sustained the demurrer to the petition, and judgment entered.

In the common pleas court the case of Dr. Rutledge vs. the First Presbyterian church of Johnstown, Ohio, was heard upon a motion to dissolve a temporary restraining order. This is an action to determine the true line between the two properties.

George Vogelmeier vs. Jacob Britcher, suit to foreclose a chattel mortgage. The court overruled the demurrer and motion to the petition.

Myrtle Spencer vs. Chas. H. Stinson, defendant given leave to plead in thirty days.

William B. Beddoes vs. Maggie Davis, et al. leave given Ebenezer Davis to answer in thirty days.

Charles M. Rider vs. Frances R. Peck, et al., leave to plead on the part of plaintiffs.

In the case of the state of Ohio ex rel. Joseph Pugh vs. The Board of County Commissioners and C. L. Riley, as auditor, a suit to enjoin the issuance of certain road bonds, counsel argued to the court the demurrer to the petition.

Admitted to Probate.

The will of Thomas M. Johnson, deceased of Union, has been admitted to probate, and Mrs. Lettie B. Thomas, widow of the deceased, has been appointed executrix.

Zanesville Whiskey Has Bad Effect on Newark Denizen

A Newark man giving the name of John Rittenau is in the Zanesville city prison for drunkenness. He says he boarded a Columbus interurban car for Newark, but landed in Zanesville. Rittenau claims he had a suit case filled with clothing, containing two quarts of whiskey and $85 when he left Columbus. Rittenau imagined himself a millionaire with an exclusive wardrobe of the latest fashion and tore every article of clothing he had to shreds. The police could only obtain a pair of youth's size trousers for the man on Sunday and then had to build a fire in the prison at night to keep him warm.

RESIGNS CHARGE AT ROCKY FORK

Rev. H. G. Dillinger, the popular young pastor of the Church of Christ at Painesburg, has resigned his country charge, at Rocky Fork, near this city, to take effect August 12, at which time he will deliver his farewell sermon. Many of his friends regretting his decision, Rev. Dillinger intends still preaching at Painesburg. Dillinger's brothers of Lima, will hold a revival for the Painesburg church on Sept. 10. They are conceded to be the best young evangelists among the Churches of Christ in the state.

PLEASED WITH TREATMENT HERE

According to a Columbus paper the colored Knights of Pythias of that city are elated over the selection of Dr. E. L. Gilliam as grand chancellor and W. A. Burke as keeper of records and seals. They have only words of praise for the good treatment accorded the order by the white citizens of Newark during the time of their convention here.

OIL AND GAS NEWS.

In the deep sand territory in Jackson Township, Perry County, the Capitol Oil and Gas Company has completed a second test on the Edward Johnson farm and has a show for a 25 barrel producer in the Clinton sand. In Falls Gore township, Hocking County, the Hocking Oil Co.
